Should the Policy be reinstated within 2 years of the date of termination, the chargeback amount Debited will be credited. A related party of the Producer includes, without limitation:

Chargeback to First Year Commission

Should a Policyowner's second year premium payment be lower than the first year premium payment, a chargeback equal to a portion of the annualized first year commission credited for that policy may be Debited. The chargeback amount Debited, if any, is calculated:

a) after the first policy year; and, b) at the earlier of the date the policy terminates and the end of the second policy year; using the following formula:

Average premium paid = $[12 / (\text{the lesser of the number of full months of policy coverage prior to policy termination and 24})] \times$ the sum of all premiums paid from the date of policy issue to the date of the calculation

If the average premium paid at the time of calculation is greater than or equal to: a) the first year premium paid; or, b) the first year target premium; no annualized first year commission will be Debited.

If the average premium paid at the time of calculation is less than: a) the first year premium paid; and, b) the first year target premium; a portion of the annualized first year commission will be Debited. The portion that will be Debited is the difference between the first year commission credited for the policy and the first year commission that would have been credited using the average premium calculation.

The above calculations and Debit, if any, will also apply with more than one coverage, including coverage added after policy issue. The calculations will apply to each coverage separately based on the coverage issue date and the portion of the paid premium allocated to that coverage.

The above Debit, if any, shall be in addition to the First Year Commission Chargeback on Life and Health Policies, which chargeback shall also apply if the policy terminates within the 24 month chargeback period.
